

Your
ref:

Our ref: A/5/7/39

21 January 2009

Dear Consultee,

DISCUSSION PAPER ON DOUBLE JEOPARDY

DISCUSSION PAPER NO 141

We invite comment on the above mentioned Discussion Paper which has been published today. Please also see the accompanying News Release.

The function of the Scottish Law Commission is to recommend ways of simplifying, updating and improving the law. In order to ensure that our recommendations, if implemented, would result in law which is just, principled, responsive and easy to understand, it is critical for the Commission to engage in a thorough and open process of consultation. We therefore welcome the views of as many people as possible, whether from an academic perspective or based on a day-to-day practical experience of the area under review.

Our usual approach to consultation – and to a law reform project in general – involves the preparation of an initial discussion or consultation paper. This sets out the current law on the topic in question, describes and analyses any problems with it, details possible options for change and seeks to elicit views from consultees on the preliminary proposals made. Discussion or consultation papers are circulated to those identified as having an interest in the topic and are also published on our website (www.scotlawcom.gov.uk). News releases are also issued to draw attention to the consultation. Once the deadline for responding has passed, a careful analysis of all responses is carried out. The proposals in the discussion or consultation paper are measured against the public response and this can lead to a period of further thought and research before final decisions are made and a report published.

Currently, we are examining the law of double jeopardy.

We invite your views on any or all of the proposals in this discussion paper. Even if you agree with our proposals but do not wish to make any further comments, a brief note to that effect would be most helpful as an indication that our proposals are on the right lines. Please note that the consultation process for this project will conclude on 17 April 2009; accordingly, we would be grateful if comments were submitted by then.

Please send your comments to the address shown at the front of the paper. It would be helpful if, where possible, comments were sent electronically. An electronic response form is available on the Commission's website at:

http://www.scotlawcom.gov.uk/html/discussion\_papers.html#dp141

We draw to your attention that, in accordance with our Publication Scheme, (i) responses to this paper will be made available to third parties on request in paper form once the responses have been considered at a Commission meeting unless a respondent has asked for a response to be treated as confidential or the Commission considers that a response should be treated as confidential; (ii) subject to the following, any summary of responses to this paper will be made available to third parties on request in paper form once it has been considered at a Commission meeting: any summary will not be made available in relation to projects where the subject matter is considered by Commissioners to be of a sensitive nature; any summary being made available will not include reference to any response where either the respondent has asked for the response to be treated as confidential or the Commission considers that the response should be treated as confidential. Any request for information which is not available under the Commission's Publication Scheme will be determined in accordance with the Freedom of Information (Scotland) Act 2002.

Also, please note that some or all responses to this paper and the names of those who submitted them may be referred to and/or quoted in the final report following from this consultation or in other Commission publications and the names of all respondents to this paper will be listed in the relative final report unless the respondent specifically asks that, or the Commission considers that, the response or name, or any part of the response, should be treated as confidential.

Finally, should you wish to offer any comments on the way in which we conduct our consultation exercises, we would be pleased to hear from you.

Yours sincerely,

MALCOLM MCMILLAN

Chief Executive